Detailed Action

(e) the invention was described in a patent granted on an application for patent by another filed in the United States before the invention thereof by the applicant for patent, or on an international application by another who has fulfilled the requirements of paragraphs (1), (2), and (4) of section 371(c) of this title before the invention thereof by the applicant for patent.

The changes made to 35 U.S.C. 102(e) by the American Inventors Protection Act of 1999 (AIPA) and the Intellectual Property and High Technology Technical Amendments Act of 2002 do not apply when the reference is a U.S. patent resulting directly or indirectly from an international application filed before November 29, 2000. Therefore, the prior art date of the reference is determined under 35 U.S.C. 102(e) prior to the amendment by the AIPA (pre-AIPA 35 U.S.C. 102(e)).

With respect to claim 15, Nakajima teaches a correction method for carrying out correction using color (color adjustment parameters such as the hue parameter) obtained by splitting a hue distribution range into red, green and blue components. See figure 34 for three split hue regions, (red, green and blue) and the distribution frequency (shown from a low scale to a high scale) concerning a specific object (911) referred to at col. 10, line 60-67. Nakajima teaches an extracting means (via process parameter switch 132 for extracting a specific color of the object 911. Nakajima teaches memory 24 as the color correction parameter memory, see col. 11, lines 45-

50. Nakajima teaches performing color correction only on the specific hue according to the current address information and adjustment range of the object. See col. 11, lines 30-36. See also figure 34.

Examiner's Remarks

Applicant's remarks have been considered and were persuasive to allow claims 1, 7 and 10 and claims dependant therefrom. Only the last full paragraph of page 17 of the remarks was the portion of the arguments which were persuasive to allow the claims. However, claim 15 remains rejected for the reasons as set forth in the rejections. There were no arguments to claim 15 that could be considered to overcome the rejection of the claim.

3.

This is a RCE of applicant's earlier Application No. 09/666,801. All claims are drawn to the same invention claimed in the earlier application and could have been finally rejected on the grounds and art of record in the next Office action if they had been entered in the earlier application. Accordingly, THIS ACTION IS MADE FINAL even though it is a first action in this case. See MPEP § 706.07(b). Applicant is reminded of the extension of time policy as set forth in 37 CFR 1.136(a).

A shortened statutory period for reply to this final action is set to expire THREE MONTHS from the mailing date of this action. In the event a first reply is filed within TWO MONTHS of the mailing date of this final action and the advisory action is not mailed until after the end of the THREE-MONTH shortened statutory period, then the shortened statutory period will expire on the date the advisory action is mailed, and any extension fee pursuant to 37 CFR 1.136(a) will be calculated from the mailing date of the advisory action. In no, however, event will the statutory period for reply expire later than SIX MONTHS from the mailing date of this final action.
